For employers, this fair is a unique opportunity to meet with more than 1,000 of our students and young graduates which possess a wide range of professional expertises in their business fields and sectors (consulting, banking, finance, energy, environment, international relations, impact, luxury, retailing, marketing, communications, media, journalism, real estate, housing, urban planning, public affairs, defense & security, law...).

For our students, this fair can help them identify future internship and work opportunities. Their multidisciplinary training has provided them with the key skills to understand and analyse the complex environmental and technological challenges companies are faced with.
